Many SA parks provide that authentic bush camping holiday while also offering modern amenities and access to creature comforts. Whether in your RV, or staying in onsite accommodation, there is a perfect mix of nature and comfort. Enjoy camp fires, bush walks, and the 'wind down' feeling of camping but without the risks of camping alone.

We have parks on farms, stations, in the bush by the river and scrub by the sea - from the outback to the coast - you can park with us and enjoy nature!

Bush Parks 3

Beachfront, riverfront or lakeside - many SA parks are located in premium waterfront locations. Enjoy picturesque water views from parks that are often located at the best spot in town.

Some parks will have waterfront camping sites, while others save the waterfront for guests staying in onsite accommodation. Whether on the beach, river or lakeside, there is direct access to nature. If picture perfect waterfront views sound good to you, look for the perfect spot at an SA park.

Waterfront parks are where the views are awesome!

Park with the Family holidays have moved to the next level of fun at many SA parks. Park with your family and let the kids loose on the jumping pillows, playgrounds, mini golf, pump tracks, swimming pools and waterparks. While park facilities can vary, some parks have specialised as 'destination holiday locations'. These parks have a range of facilities and activities for the whole family. Many SA parks are also designed to cater for traditional camping families, so if that's what you're after you can just chill out and relax.

Whether your family aims for busy and active, or is more laid back, you will find a holiday that suits the whole family. Throw in access to nature and great locations and you'll never want to go home.

You can still park with us as all SA parks will have onsite accommodation options. Get close to nature and relish the lifestyle while still enjoying all the comforts you deserve.

Some SA parks will have full luxury onsite accommodation options designed to meet the needs of the most discerning traveller. If you prefer to camp in luxury, but don't have the gear, rest easy knowing you can find glamping options too.

Parking in style allows you to choose picturesque natural locations and amazing park facilities while still enjoying the modern comforts you love!

Parks with Style  $\odot$

While we haven't done the research, we are sure that pets love caravan park holidays nearly as much as people. Why wouldn't they? They get to enjoy nature and the outdoors right there with you.

An SA parks holiday with your pet is easy, with over 135 parks now accepting pets. In fact, there's often a warm welcome for your pet and some parks may even have pet friendly areas or access to nearby walking trails.

If you're not a caravanner or camper, there are more SA parks offering pet friendly cabin accommodation options. Look for the 'Pet Friendly Park' symbol in the guide to know which parks will welcome your furry travelling companion. Parks offering pet friendly cabin accommodation will list this in their features.

AUSTRALIA'S LARGEST NETWORK OF HOLIDAY PARKS.

Welcome to the Adelaide Hills, where each distinct season provides another reason to visit – from the romantic morning mists and cosy fires of winter, profusion of garden colour in spring, cool shady beer gardens and fruit picking in summer, to the glorious leaves of autumn.

Cuddle a koala, meet winemakers, enjoy a craft beer or cider, pick your own fruit, come for one of the many events and markets, or enjoy a lunch that lasts all afternoon.

While regional gateways are just a 20 minute drive from Adelaide, be sure to explore further afield and take your time to discover the diverse landscape, where corduroy vineyards intersect with rambling forest and steep ridges yield to rolling hills and orchards.

Fine studios and galleries abound, from the immense cultural legacy of Sir Hans Heysen's home, 'The Cedars', to grassroots community spaces. Over 50 cellar doors are spread across the Hills, from tiny solo acts to slick, contemporary venues.

Cheese and chocolate, craft beer and cider, gin, and even bread and jam are made the old-fashioned way - with hands and heart. You can satisfy your appetite in a country pub or bakery, take a gourmet approach in a sophisticated restaurant, or picnic with local produce fresh from the farm gate or roadside stall.

DEFINITIONS

GVM (Gross Vehicle Mass)

The GVM is the maximum allowable total mass of a fully loaded motor vehicle. This is the tare mass (mass of the vehicle) plus the load (including passengers). And includes any load or weight applied to the vehicle's towbar.

GCM (Gross Combination Mass)

GCM is the rating provided by the tow vehicle manufacturer. The maximum laden mass of the vehicle combination (tow vehicle and caravan) is not permitted to exceed the GCM rating. Be aware, even if the tow vehicle and trailer individually are in their maximum rating, combined they may not be in the GCM rating of tow vehicle.

ATM (Aggregate Trailer Mass)

The total permissible weight of a trailer, which includes the weight supported by the tow vehicle (tow ball mass) and what you add as payload (e.g. water, gas, equipment and luggage). The ATM is specified by the trailer manufacturer and must not be exceeded.

GTM (Gross Trailer Mass)

The total permissible mass that can be supported by the wheels/tyres of the RV. This includes what you add as payload (e.g. water, gas, equipment and luggage), but does not include the weight supported by the tow vehicle (tow ball mass).

Tare Mass

The total weight of the RV (load on tyres plus coupling mass) with all options and fittings as supplied by the manufacturer, with empty water tanks, gas bottles, excluding fluids not essential for operation on public roads, and without luggage or personal effects.

Tow Ball/ Coupling Mass

The weight imposed on the tow vehicle's towbar by the coupling. The tow ball coupling mass specified on a trailer's Vehicle (VIN) Plate will be an actual weight recorded with the trailer at tare mass. The tow ball coupling mass will vary depending on the loading of the trailer.

Payload

The allowable load carrying capacity or 'payload' is worked out by deducting the 'Tare Mass' from the 'ATM'. It must not be exceeded under any circumstances. Safety, insurance, and warranty may be affected if the specified payload is exceeded.

TOWING & RV SAFETY

There's nothing more exciting than planning your next Recreational Vehicle (RV) road trip. Put simply, a well-executed RV holiday comes down to getting the nuts and bolts right.

Unlike jumping on a plane, towing your RV comes with more responsibility, and you are a critical member in the logistical team. Your first step is to review the current towing resources, regardless of if it's your first time towing, or you have experience towing.

National Recreational Vehicle Towing Guide

Wrapping your head around legal requirements, vehicle dimensions, towing parts, weights, braking systems, tyres, and the plethora of towing jargon can first feel overwhelming.

National Recreational Vehicle Towing Guide Towing a caravan requires knowledge about the loaded mass of your trailer, caravan sway and how to safely load your trailer. Weight limits can't be exceeded and you need knowledge of weight distribution hitches and more.

The Caravan and Camping Industries Association of SA can provide you with a hard copy of the guide. Contact details are on their website caravanandcampingsa.com.au.

Some brief towing definitions and topics are touched on in this article but don't forget to seriously soak up the extensive, free information offered to you in the national towing guide.

TOWING & RV SAFETY BACK TO CONTENTS

Legal requirements

A fine would quickly dampen holiday excitement and worse, an accident would be devastating. The harsh reality is towing vehicle accidents can have fatal consequences.

SAPOL's Road Safety Unit Resources

In addition to the national towing guide, SAPOL's Road Safety Unit have towing and road safety resources that can be found here.

Towing requirements are legislated and policed at state levels. It's in your best interest to contact the state transport authority you are travelling through or to, prior to leaving, for further information about towing legislation.

Towing speed limits differ from state to state, learning about these speed limits ahead of time is advised.

Check recommended speed limits against your manufacturer's vehicle handbook as reduced limits can be stated.

SAPOL's Caravan & Recreational Vehicle Security Booklet Think about safety more broadly. This includes the security of the property you are travelling with, and the property you leave behind.

Consider weather conditions, especially during bushfire season, and know what to do in the event of an emergency before you head off. View SAPOL's Caravan and Recreational Vehicle Security booklet.

Weight and loading

Understanding Weight Watch Video • Your towing weight needs to be in the forefront of your mind. Watch the video to help you understand weight.

Knowing how to sensibly load your trailer is crucial for optimal stability and to avoid caravan sway. Packing light can be a challenge when going away. The diagram below depicts 'sensible loading.'

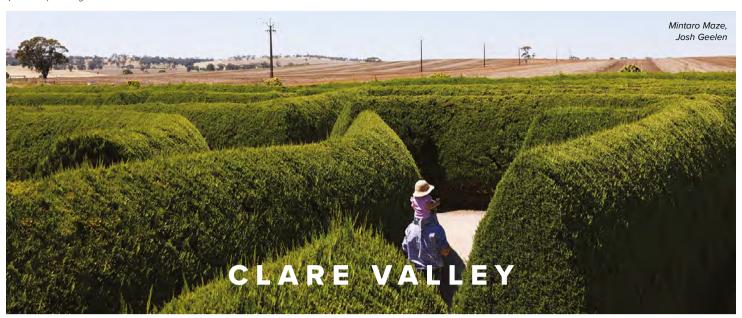

Heavier loads mean ensuring your tyres can stand the distance and knowing your braking system can safely support you is crucial.

According to the Australian Design Rules, all trailers over 750kg GTM (irrespective of the towing capacity or unladen mass of the tow vehicle) must have an effective brake system fitted. Refer to the national towing guide for more detail.

Lastly, seek support from your RV manufacturer and/or from where you purchased your RV from. When travelling with your RV, keeping you and others safe is the most important priority.

The roll out of EV charging across regional and metro SA

A partnership between the South Australian Government and RAA will soon see the building of South Australia's first state-wide electric vehicle (EV) charging network, with more than 530 charging points to be installed across the whole state by early 2024.

Spanning highways, regional centres, suburbs and the CBD, the electric vehicle charging network will make it easier to own and drive an EV in South Australia. More than three quarters of the new charging sites will be in regional SA, meaning EV owners will be able to travel greater distances across the state and through regional SA.

The project has begun and the network is expected to be fully functional by 2024. The planned charging sites will be well within range for a typical EV, with 98% of charging sites less than 200km apart.

Some caravan parks will soon have dedicated EV charging stations so you can charge your EV while staying at our amazing locations across SA. The next Caravan & Camping Guide will list all parks with dedicated EV Charging. In the meantime, we suggest you regularly check the SA Parks website to see which parks already have EV charging stations, this info will be continually updated over the coming year.

When it comes to locally made food and beverages, South Australia truly leads the way with a food and wine culture that brings the most devoted foodies back again and again.

Steeped in history and drenched with class you can sample the locally made at booming city bars, regional distilleries, and at hundreds of cellar doors and wineries around the state.

Vibrant Adelaide, picturesque McLaren Vale, lush Adelaide Hills, bountiful Clare Valley, the Coonawarra, Barossa Valley, Riverland and Eyre Peninsula. A visit to any of these places will confirm why SA is known as one of the great wine capitals of the world.

We are also home to an all-star cast of world-famous chefs and producers with Adelaide at the centre of this culinary playground. The coastal strip from Semaphore to Seacliff is a must for outdoor dining in summer while the beautiful Adelaide Hills is a destination for any time of year.

In the suburbs and towns of much of SA you will find streets studded with cafes, restaurants, wineries and breweries. The seaside regions of Yorke Peninsula, Eyre Peninsula and the Limestone Coast are the places to visit for seafood, with everything from export grade fish from the local commercial fleets, right through to the local fisher who sells his catch to the local pub. With the pristine waters of the Southern Ocean, our whiting, lobster and oysters are the envy of the world.

Your trip around South Australia will surprise, there are so many smaller, lesser-known wineries and distilleries, many which also offer exceptional food. On your journey you will find many perfect places to enjoy a long indulgent lunch where you can choose to overlook a beautiful rural landscape, the sea or the river or just sit by a cosy log fire.

Food, wine and ale lovers will enjoy taking the time to celebrate the pleasures on offer in South Australia.

Tips to help you on your foodie journey

Do your research on the area

Visit the local information centre. Pick up information on the food and wine trails and the regional visitor guide. Check out posts from local food bloggers and do a Google search.

Ask real people

Get recommendations from friends, locals, ask the park staff, and the people you've met along the way.

Search out local seasonal produce and regional flavours

Make it a priority to search out restaurants which showcase local food, wine and ales.

Book ahead

With the food culture growing the best spots get busy, so it always pays to book ahead so you are not disappointed.

Everyone loves a market

South Australia is an artisan and producers mecca with a cacophony of artisan produce, regional food and handcrafted wares. In the heart of the towns, bottles of cold pressed olive oil are stacked next to continental breads and small goods, cakes and chocolates tempt passers-by, while organic produce provides the perfect balancing act. Many markets also showcase local artisans, arts, and other wares and that's where unique treasures can really be found. Here are just a few of our local markets, there is whole lot more, so we suggest you check out the local visitor guides or visitor information centres to find more.

FLINDERS RANGES & OUTBACK BACK TO CONTENTS

Owning an RV is incredibly rewarding. It gives you freedom and flexibility to explore South Australia and beyond. See remote places in the comfort of your own mobile home, on your terms, giving you more control of your holiday.

Thinking about buying an RV? Do your research. There are many brands, shapes and sizes and it's about working out what's right for you. Knowing what to buy comes down to understanding what types of RV holidays you're planning to take.

Tips before buying

Do your research

Talk to other RV travellers about what they like and dislike, what works and what they'd do differently. Going on RV holidays with friends can help you uncover what could work for you. Ask yourself, do you plan to do short or long trips in your RV?

Driving or towing?

You may want to drive a motorhome or tow a caravan. If you plan to tow, think about what you are comfortable towing. Towing means you need to be prepared to learn about towing and how to do this safely. Ask yourself, am I eager to learn about towing, how much am I prepared to tow? Your budget is always a factor in your decision but remember, keeping you and your family safe is paramount.

What can your car tow?

What your current car can tow will determine the product you buy. You may plan to upgrade your vehicle to increase your towing capacity.

See what's out there

The Caravan and Camping Industries of SA (CCIASA) has a member list on their website www.caravanandcampingsa.com.au. Visit these businesses to talk about their products. CCIASA runs two 'Let's go Caravan and Camping' shows per year. At these events you can see and talk to multiple RV manufacturers and dealers in the one place. Businesses at these shows are subjected to compliance checks, offering you more confidence in what you buy.

Look for the RVMAP Accreditation Key

Industry members are working hard to ensure their products are compliant with increasing industry standards. There are rules in place to protect and keep consumers safe. Purchase from businesses who make a commitment to continual improvement.

Test drive

Look for opportunities to test drive an RV of interest. Go away with friends who have what you are looking to buy, observe and test drive. Someone may let you borrow their RV for a weekend away to trial the experience. Or rent an RV for a weekend away to see if it works for you.

STAY IN TOUCH ON THE ROAD

Whilst driving around South Australia, you may have noticed it doesn't take long before mobile reception is unreliable, which is why you need to consider communications options before you leave.

Mobile signal boosters

This set-and-forget system acts as a mini phone tower inside your car. Signal boosters automatically amplify 3G, 4G or 5G signal in and around your vehicle. As long as the booster can pick up on a signal, your phone signal can be boosted up to 2-4 bars!

Satellite phones

A satellite phone can send/receive calls or texts virtually anywhere in Australia. This invaluable piece of safety equipment enables communication through remote areas and can provide a link to emergency services. Satellite messengers will also allow you to send texts with your mobile phone over a satellite network.

UHF radios

A must for travelling. Tune in to emergency channels to request assistance, or talk on public channels, either to let others know about hazards ahead, or to stay in contact with fellow travellers. Modern UHFs are compact and easy to use.

Four ways to stay connected on your adventures

When you're out travelling the country, a new suspension or the latest fridge for your caravan might make you comfortable, but they won't save your life! Australia can be unpredictable, but prioritising communications can make all the difference in a sticky situation. Read on for some of the many options available to help you stay connected.

Satellite Communicators

If you're travelling outside of mobile coverage, satellite communication is a necessity. You don't have to drive far out of the city to lose signal, and satellite communication can keep you in touch with friends, family and emergency services virtually anywhere on the planet. Pictured is the Thuraya Hotspot, which allows you to connect your mobile phone to the satellite network. Other options include satellite phones and communicators.

GPS

A GPS is an invaluable device for those travelling to unfamiliar areas. A GPS preloaded with topographic maps, such as the Garmin Overlander (pictured) can help you find your way, even when outside of mobile coverage. Many GPS' also offer spoken directions and voice activation, keeping your hands and eyes on the road. If you're on foot, a handheld GPS is a lightweight option. Some even offer inbuilt satellite messaging and SOS signalling.

UHF Radio

UHF CB Radios are the most basic starting point for travellers on Australia's roads. A UHF is essential safety equipment, just like your spare tyre. These devices allow you to contact other road users, as well as emergency services. A UHF in your car means you are easily contactable and in the know about situations unfolding around you on the road.

Phone Signal Boosters

A mobile phone signal booster is a must for your vehicle. These boosters can be installed into all types of vehicles to dramatically improve voice quality and increase data speeds on 4G and 5G networks. The Cel-Fi Go (pictured) is the only one of its kind approved for use in Australia. Beware of illegal boosters available on the internet.

Kangaroo Island is one of the world's great wilderness destinations. Australia's third largest island stretches 155 kilometres long and 55 kilometres wide. The coastline is big enough to bestow a real sense of peace, wild enough to harbour a few secrets and small enough to tour.

You can quietly 'go bush' and see native Australian animals and birds as they were meant to be - in the wild.

Kangaroo Island offers a wealth of inspiring nature-based experiences. Flinders Chase National Park is the place to watch the New Zealand Fur Seals at Admirals Arch, marvel at the sculptures of Remarkable Rocks, observe rare Australian Sea Lions at Seal Bay, and make a date to meet the Little Penguins as they emerge from the sea at the end of their working day. 'KI' as the locals call it, is big and surprisingly diverse, so you will always find somewhere to call your own to enjoy a little quiet time and let nature soothe your spirit. If you are an experience seeker, there is the opportunity to snorkel, fish, surf, kayak or quad bike.

Kangaroo Island has a thriving food and wine industry, so get ready to enjoy freshwater crayfish (Marron), lobsters, King George Whiting, local oysters and the world's finest Ligurian Bee honey. The wine industry is only young, but we're ripening to perfection, so call in to one of the many cellar doors for a drop. To get to the island, you can choose to fly, drive or take a coach to Cape Jervis and connect with the regular passenger and car ferry.

Things to Do

- Explore Flinders Chase National Park
- Climb to the top of Prospect Hill
- Walk amongst the Australian sea lions at Seal Bay
- ⊘ Embark on a five day trek on the KI Wilderness Trail
- Try local beverages beer, wine, spirits and cider
- Leave the only set of footprints on the amazing beaches
- Undertake some thrill and adventure quad biking

BACK TO CONTENTS

Come and play outdoors. Whether it's paddling or water skiing, cycling or walking, racing cars or four wheel driving... this region has it all.

Famous for iconic houseboat holidays and paddle steamer history, but there's more on offer. The waterways begin in the lower Murray near Swan Reach. This stretch boasts some of the River's widest expanses and most spectacular ochre cliff faces. From here follow the Mighty Murray Way towards Mannum and Murray Bridge.

With large riverfront recreation areas and restaurants, these towns are perfect for soaking up river life. Float south towards the Lower Lakes, Murray Mouth and Coorong – one of the most unique environments in the world - made famous again by the 2019 film remake of Storm Boy.

Along the way, you'll go through Tailem Bend, now firmly on the map thanks to The Bend Motorsport Park. Further south, you'll start catching glimpses of Lakes Albert and Alexandrina, as they begin to open up to the Coorong National Park.

The laid-back town of Meningie, set right on Lake Albert, is known for spectacular sunsets and fresh seafood.

On the other side of the Coorong, you can travel through Lake Alexandrina towns (such as Milang and Langhorne Creek) on your way to Goolwa, which is where the River Murray meets the sea.

Things to Do

SA Welcomes RECREATIONAL VEHICLES

The caravan park industry is working with local government to promote regional towns

Quarautine in South Australia - Know the Restrictions

When preparing to travel within or to South Australia, there are some things to consider to keep our state safe.

Some fruits, vegetables and plants, cannot be brought into South Australia or the Riverland as they may carry pests or diseases, including fruit fly, which are a risk to our state.

If you are travelling within or to South Australia, leave your fruit and vegetables at home and buy them when you arrive at your destination. It's an excellent opportunity to support local businesses and experience the fresh local produce!

The Riverland is a 'Pest Free Area'.
This means South Australian fruit growers can export to certain international markets without the need for further treatment.
Supporting local growers and sellers will help protect the jobs and businesses currently at risk from fruit fly.

Certain fruit and vegetables cannot travel with you into the Riverland Pest Free Area.

If you are caught with fruit and vegetables that are a risk, your produce will be taken away, and you may be fined. Understand how to plan your travel to and within South Australia, so pests and diseases don't travel with you. Pack thoughtfully and buy local when you arrive. Visit www.fruitfly.sa.gov.au or call 1300 666 010 to find out more.

A place where the spirit of nature runs free and uninhibited, where Australia's longest river, the mighty Murray, weaves its way through the landscape, complimented by towering cliffs, meandering creeks and expansive floodplains.

With picturesque national parks and reserves to explore, including walking, riding, drive and canoe trails, the Riverland will help you reconnect with nature.

The region is a heartland of fresh produce with a haven of flavours to tempt your senses and soothe your soul. Featuring a selection of cellar doors, unique produce outlets and roadside fruit stalls, it's worth taking a drive to discover some of the best locally made food, wine, beer and spirits.

Families can enjoy the many unique playgrounds and play spaces across the region, or see history come to life at a historical village, museum or on board a paddle steamer. After a day out exploring the beautiful Riverland, you can kick back and relax by the river or the beautiful Lake Bonney.

Swag it, bring the van, camp, glamp or book a cabin at a waterfront holiday park. Come and immerse yourself in the Riverland, where the good times flow.

Lazy days under the beach umbrella. Cold beers around a sizzling barbecue. Stunning sunsets over boat-filled bays. Postcard perfect beaches...

Beginning just 90 minutes from Adelaide, Yorke Peninsula is one of South Australia's most relaxed holiday regions, with long secluded beaches, great fishing, fascinating history and vast expanses of untouched nature. If you find relaxing with a fishing line is your idea of heaven, there are plenty of historic jetties to explore and the two gulfs provide some of the best catches in the State.

Step back in time and experience the unique history and culture Yorke Peninsula has to offer. History buffs can learn about the rich mining and farming heritage through the many museums and historic walks.

Dhilba Guuranda-Innes National Park is one of the most famous wildlife havens in the state, with 9200ha of untouched flora and fauna and some spectacular rugged cliffs. This is where you can experience bush walking, swimming, surfing, snorkelling, bird watching, diving and sometimes even whale watching. Yorke Peninsula is the perfect escape!

Providing over 50s the opportunity to live in an affordable home surrounded by picturesque landscapes SA's Residential Parks and Lifestyle Villages, (also known as land lease communities) are enabling more retirees to achieve their lifestyle dream.

If you've considered downsizing your current home, then you've probably given some thought to the type of home or community you'd like to downsize to. Choosing your new home is a deeply personal decision, based on your own unique situation and preferences.

At the Lifestyle Villages listed on these pages you will purchase and own your home and have a secure lease on the land on which your home sits. Unlike retirement villages, these communities are typically younger and do not contain the support services needed by people of advanced age.

These communities will typically offer homeowners private access to a range of resort-style facilities. This may include swimming pools, recreation rooms, gyms, landscaped grounds, barbeques and communal entertaining areas. Many will also have activity programs and social clubs that will support an active and connected way of life. This can offer the opportunity to enjoy the company of others, as little or as much as you wish.

Things to Cousider

- How does buying a home in the community work?
- ♦ What homes are available & what is included?
- What rules apply in the community?
- Are pets allowed?
- ♦ What legislative protection is available?
- ♦ What is the weekly site fee & what does it cover?
- Are there any other costs when living in the community?
- Can you access government concessions?
- What recreational & social facilities are available?
